

INSTITUTE ON AGING SEMINAR SERIES, FALL 2003

Session no.	date	at	topic	speaker	series	Remarks
1	14-15 August	3-5	Ethics workshop	Various
2	28 August	12	Program introduction, and Multidisciplinary Research: Promises, Problems and Politics	Victor Marshall, Program Director CPHAR
3	4 September	12	Addressing Health Disparities Among Older Adults in North Carolina	Sharon Wellman, Chanetta Washington, Moses Goldman and Carol Bunch, Shaw University	ECRA
4	10-12 September Charlotte		North Carolina Conference on Aging			CPHAR Fellows attend
5	18 September	12	The Political Life of Medicare	Jon Oberlander, Dept. of Social Medicine		Rescheduled to Spring semester due to weather
	SESSIONS	6-9	METHODOLOGY	BLOCK
6	25 September	12	Recruitment and Retention of Diverse Populations	Peggye Dilworth-Anderson, IOA & Giselle Corby-Smith, Dept. of Social Medicine	ECRA
7	16 October	12	Sample Design and Implementation	Dr. Bill Kalsbeek, Dept. of Biostatistics and Survey Research Unit
	23 October		Fall Break
8	30 October	12	Linking Qualitative and Quantitative Methods	Peggye Dilworth-Anderson, IOA & Bryan Weinger Dept of Health Policy and Administration	ECRA
9	6 November	12	Doing Clinical Research with People Near Death	Martha Henderson Program on Aging

10	13 November		Depression in Later Life	Dan Blazer, Duke University
	21-25 November		Gerontological Society of America Meetings, San Diego			Recommended for CPHAR fellows
	27 November		Thanksgiving Holiday
11	4 December	2:30-5:00	Older Workers: International Perspectives	Visiting international faculty, Workforce Aging in the New Economy Project		Panel Format Location: Rosenthal Conference Room, Third Floor, Sheps Center
ADDED	9 December	10-11:30 am	Determinants of Medication Self-Management Strategies that May Threaten Adherence to Medication Regimens Among Homebound Elders	Joseph R. Sharkey, PhD, MPH, RD		Added on 11/11/2003
12	11 December		Acculturation and Health	Guadalupe X. Ayala, Dept. of Health Behavior and Health Education	ECRA	final sessions prior to Xmas Break

Sessions 12:00 -1:30 PM (bag lunch format) unless otherwise noted.

The Institute on Aging Seminar Series includes the Seminar Series in Ethnicity, Culture, Race and Aging (ECRA). The inclusive series is a requirement for fellows in the Carolina Program in Healthcare and Aging Research (CPHAR), and the series is open to the public.